The Kankakee Valley Historical Society - The Briggs Project

The Kankakee Valley Historical Society announces a very special presentation regarding remnants of an old shipwreck discovered in Lake Michigan on the Ogden Dunes beach. The lecture will be given by members of the Briggs Project team.

The April 24th presentation will center on the team's theory of how and why the shipwreck came to be at Ogden Dunes and its connection to one of the most important and turbulent times in recent American history—the Civil War.

As research continues in 2007, the team will be issued a permit by the State of Indiana for the summer season to perform excavations on the wreck site.
